Visalia Livestock Market Roundup
Wednesday, July 7, 2010
Cattle Saleable: 425

This week we saw decreased numbers of stocker and feeder cattle with a good run of butcher cows. The light weight cattle selling steady to slightly higher as the flesh condition is starting to turn more variable for turning out on dry feed. Middle and heavier cattle are higher $1-2 on the middle weights and $2-4 on the heavier ones. We are seeing good optimism out in front of us and it seems everyone wants to have some inventory. We are seeing the start of the expansion faze as many producers are retaining more heifers. This is a bullish sign moving forward for the fat cattle in the short and intermediate term. Butcher cows selling higher this week up $2-4 across the board. Bred cows are in excellent demand and short supply-Don't miss our July 21st bred cow special if you need replacements, there will be a good offering of bred heifers and young cows. Please call me if you would like more detail. ..see you at ringside, Randy
