The market this week was extremely active on most all the better quality cattle making another push up and reaching new highs on some weight classes! Most of the extreme buyer demand was on the 475 to 750 pound cattle and this is where the biggest ups were seen. As these classes are showing the highest demand, there is no lack of demand really on any weight class from a multitude of buyers already showing up. This year we have saw a lot of interest in the cattle here at VLM from not only our yearly seasonal buyers, but there has already been interest from several buyers that we have not sold any to in several years. This gives me a great feeling that we will keep the high demand for Calves all the way to the end of the season, or at least until the weather becomes a factor across the country. As always noted the largest demand will always come on the better quality cattle with all the proper vaccinations in place.

Butcher cows another strong week this Wednesday here at VLM. We did see new recent highs on the cows also, with what seemed like next level demand. We will see where this goes but for now there has been no quit in the very high cow market we are seeing! Cow inventories are down and this has most Packers scrambling for cattle. So I do think we are and will continue to be in a great spot right along.

We have several great marketing opportunities for all classes over the next four weeks with Excellent buyer attendance already committed. If you have any question as to what week will fit you best please don't hesitate to call.

See you at ringside, Randy

Have you tried Multimin?

Many producers have been adding Multimin to their lineup while preg checking cows and at vaccination time on the calves. Proper trace minerals are necessary for optimal fertility, vaccine response and health in cattle. More uniform groups of healthier calves equals more pounds to sell at weaning.
