Cattle can also be age and source verified as well as qualified for all natural in one audit!

Vaccination Programs

Don't forget shots do matter! Remember just because you are enrolled in a certification program like NHTC that shots are an important and integral part of marketing your livestock. A complete vaccination program as well as good genetics and a feed program all help enhance the quality of your livestock as well as paying you dividends. Remember all livestock are not the same...paying attention to genetics, vaccination programs and supplement feeds all make a difference to your end product
